Governor Sends Annual . Message to Assembly ... On Tuesday

SEES BIG BALANCE

Agriculture, Tenure of Office and Schools Mentioned Today.

Columbus, Jan. 2.-In his annual message to the Ohio legislature, presented today, Governor Davis says:

The most conspicuously outstanding point at this time in a review of the state's condition, and from which the people of Ohio have cause to draw a good deal of pride and satisfaction, is the financial aspect. The state is in by far the most prosperous condition at this beginning of a new year than it has ever been.

There is at this moment the enormous cash balance of approximately treasury, representing only the general fund and not including balances of special funds, which raise that amount many million dollars more. In the consideration of this tremendous surplus, several facts are to be remembered:

It is from this general fund that all state operating expenses are paid; direct taxation bears no part of the state operating cost and contributes in no way to this fund; the state in the last quarter of 1920 had a general fund deficit of $109,588.27; previously the condition of the general fund had violently fluctuated from low marks reaching almost entire extinction to an extreme maximum at one time of 38,403,056.

With this great balance in the treas ury made available for the public uses, and originating entirely as point-The message, a lengthy one, carried ed out from outside the direct taxes paid by the public, the opportunity to relieve substantially the pressed and burdened taxpayer from a portion of the load under which he has labored Among the governor's recommenda- for years, is no longer an empty hope is now here in actual, self-evident ex-

Attention should therefore be directed at once to convey directly to the people of the state the benefit of house, Robert S. Wynn, Democrat, of the efforts through which the present Pike county, was contested and ap- surplus has resulted, in the form of

Would Abolish Levy.

The state tax levy, properly speaking, now is 1.025 mills, a rate which L. C. Brodbeck to qualify. Brodbeck in 1921 produced a revenue of $11.-009,389.92. This direct state tax money has been devoted specifically to four distinct purposes, with no part of it, as pointed out, going into operating expenses. Approximately resentative in this assembly unless one-half of it has been required and the governor should call a special distributed for state university, normal school and state institutional building projects and for educational equalization, and the other half comprised the amount paid by the general taxpayer for state highway construc-

None of the specific needs for which the state tax levy is used have abated. There is the greatest urgency that the educational opportunities afforded by the state to its youth through the higher schools of learning continue to be broadened. State universities which for years were seriously impeded in their work because of the lack of new buildings, until special provision was made for them early in this administration, must be ena cupied seats with their respective bled to improve and extend their plants so as to keep pace with the necessities of the situation. Similar ly, the crowded state of institutions and the condition of many of the presmembers are Mrs. Nettie M. Clapp, ent buildings-result of years of neglect-demand that there be no lapse in new construction work there. Though these levies expire June 30, 1923, their purposes should be further supported. Also, it would be highly detrimental to the state to attempt to interfere with the state's aid to weak school districts that is given through the educational equalization fund. And the uninterrupted, undiminished building of highways is necessarily demanded by every sound reason.

> I am of the decided opinion that this affluent financial condition of the state, with its establishment of what virtually amounts to a gigantic reserve fund, will safely permit the entire abolition of the state tax levywhich as stated was less in annual total revenue yield than the general fund increase referred to-and thus afford the general taxpayer much needed extensive relief. Such abandonment of the state levy would have to have, however, as a condition precedent, definite provision for setting aside of the moneys required for the purposes now covered by that levy, from the accumulating surplus and perhaps in part from other sources.

> We have now a two-year term for all elective state officials, with the exception of the state auditor, who serves for four years. The unfairness to the public of such an exceedingly brief term lies in the fact that hardly before the official has fairly launched

> Berlin, Jan. 2 .- Chancellor Cuno's announcement of the rejection by France of his offer of an anti-war pact brought considerable comment from official circles, which, however, was confined to the question of Germany's motives in making the offer.

The world should now be convinced, officials say, that Germany harbors no ideas of revenge and that she is truly a democracy, being content to leave the decision of war or peace to a popu lar referendum, as provided in the proposed pact.

Whether the government considers Poincare's rejection of the plan as final and as disposing of further efforts in this direction could not be adduced from informal inquiries and officials apparently were awaiting the French reaction to Herr Cuno's announcement. BRITISH SUGGEST ROLE FOR U. S. IN RESCUING EUROPE.

An important article, supposedly reflecting in a broad way the views held by the British Government, is contributed to the current week's issue of the London Spectator by its editor, John St. Loe Strachey. Under the caption, "An Appeal to America," the editor propounds a plan for world settlement under three headings as follows:

First. Get Great Britain's debt to America funded.

Second. Ask America to assist in ascertaining the amount of reparations Germany is able to pay, and induce France to accept that sum by undertaking to co-operate in the defense of France against German aggressions

Third. America and England then to inaugurate some system of international legal tender, permitting resumption of international exchange on a sound basis. Upon the promise that the new year holds a dark outlook unless the mechanism of commerce is stabilized, and that the essential to this is fixing the reparations irrevocably, without which he says there can be no recovery for Germany or, indeed, for the whole world. Mr. Strachey submits that the reparations problem is insoluable without a preliminary agreement in regard to the inter-allied indebtedness.

He suggests that Chancellor of the Exchequer Baldwin, who is now on his way to the United States, tell the Washington Government plainly that he has come to pay and, like a bank official, ask the Americans "how they will take it." Thus it would be for the Americans and not the British to propose a plan for funding the debt in a manner suiting them best and causing the least possible inconvenience to the world's money markets.

Having by such funding placed herself in the position of a creditor nation, the editor continues, England should approach America with a request for joint action to settle the inter-allied indebtedness and for advice concerning the reparations problem. England should frankly recognize, however, he adds, that the American system of government precludes alliances and that America dreads diplomatic entanglements.

UNITED STATES HAS 64 PER CENT OF ALL THE TELEPHONES IN THE WORLD.

SPEAKING OF PLANS.

I like to talk about my plans, of things I mean to do: I'll overhaul my twin sedans, which now refuse to choo; I plan to paint my picket fence, which is quite shabby now, and build, regardless of expense, a stable for the cow. I plan a hundred useful things, before the season goes, and so I walk around in rings and tell what I propose. My neighbors paint their fences pink, and haven't much to say, and when their cars are on the blink, they fix them in a day. At useful tasks they ply their tools, they put up wood to burn, they grease their pigs and wash their mules, manipulate the churn. And when I call to show blue prints of schemes I'll soon make whiz, they are not backward with their hints that I'm unfinished biz. I never seem to get in touch with bigs results, alas; I sometimes fear I talk too much to make things come to pass. It might be better if I toiled and put hot air in cans, for big achievement oft is spoiled by having many plans. My neighbors build their useful casks, with neat, well-fitting bungs, while I am talking of my tasks, for I've the gift of tongues.

WAY OF SALVATION SET FORTH MONDAY AT CHURCH MEETING

A vital message and inspiration singing marked the evangelistic service at the First M. E. Church, Monday evening. The first half hour was devoted to prayer and praise followed by the sermon of the evening, by the Rev. G. A. Scott, based on Mark 7:14, "Hearken unto me every one of you and understand.

"Christ speaks to use through the still, small voice, through the pulpit, the choir, the faith of a little child, the death of a friend, and other things; but some do not hear and many do not understand the voice and its appeal," was one of the statements of the Rev. Mr. Scott." If you do not hear there is something wrong with you. It may be prejudice, or you may be willfully refusing to hear or understand because you do not want to obey," the minister went on

The speaker set forth of the way of salvation, by using and explaining Christ's words, and showing that, "it is not enough to hear and understand, but surrender and obedience must come before there can be peace and

Two theories have been advanced as an explanation of the woman's actions. One is that the money was to be left at the sub-station and then stolen that night, furnishing a basis for a claim against the government. Another is that the money might be drew. part of the loot secured by bandits when they held up a truck from the Denver, Colo. mint, recently. A New Friend to Farmers

The Ohio-Pennsylvania Joint Stock Land Bank, organized under the Federal Farm Loan Act, opens its doors January 2nd. Its sole business is to finance farm owners in these two states through first mortgages -promptly, at low cost and on fair understandable terms.

You deal directly with us or through your local banker. Your loan is made at 6%, without bonus or commission. Its term is 33 years. It never needs to be renewed because your small semi-annual payments wipe out the entire interest and principal in that period.

Our institution is directed by banking and agricultural leaders of Ohio and Pennsylvania. Their names are a guarantee of its integrity; they are men well known to be thoroughly in sympathy with the needs of the farmer. It is their plan to make this bank your friend in every way.

We have prepared an interesting booklet telling you how we can serve you. Write for it.

upon his work, he must immediately look forward to and prepare for another election campaign. That campaign itself usually requires most of the official's undivided time and active effort during the greater part of his second year in office

These considerations and a strong conviction that terms of state elective executive officers should be four years each, and to avoid all possible political complications, should be restricted to a single tenure, impel me to urge action by the general assembly whereby the question of amending the constitution to provide for such extention of terms of office may be submitted to the citizens for their consideration at the next election.

operation of the state government, known as the reorganization plan, a new epoch is marked in the history or Ohio's management of its public afof it has firmly and clearly distinguished its substantial merit and its vast superiority over the old order. The results it has accomplished have been striking. They are to be found and though in many instances sweeping in degree and scope, there is am rebuilding of natural resources. ple assurance that it will yield increasingly higher benefits to the public in improved, larger and more economical service as succeeding administrations make the most of its possibilities.

I have already alluded to the stupendous balance in the general revenue fund which we are able to trans. mit to our successor in office, and the direct opportunity it affords for an immediate large cut in taxes. That balance represents at least in large part direct savings in state expenses which the new plan has permitted. In that respect it stands as an immediate promise of continuing economics and further relief to the public. If legislative appropriations can be exceeded by public officials with im punity, knowing that any deficit will be met by the state, our system of legislative check over administrative finances fails largely of its purpose. Yet, such check is one of the basic

By means of the new budget conpenditures, and upon this precedent has finally arrived at the point where deficiencies are permanently avoided.

Workmen's Compenstion. The progress made in the last two years in the administration and building up of the state fund has been such as to furnish cause for rejoicing to every sincere friend of workmen's compensation. From a balance in 1920 of $32,000,000, the fund has grown until today it reaches $41,000,000. Premiums paid by employers up to two years ago totaled $60,000,000. Now they amount to about $86,500,000. Un

In the administration of the new occupational disease law enacted in 1921, it has been found that the premiums collected are much in excess of the risk which this phase of workmen's protection involves. Premiums collected to meet the hazard amount to $250,000. Yet only $9,000 has had to be paid in occupational disease compensation

The law as it now stands includes only some 14 compensable diseases, while the actual diseases to which certain occupations give rise number something like 25.

It is not only desirable therefore that every occupational disease be made compensable under the law, but in the light of the small ratio of the risk involved, as shown, it is at the same time to be deemed wise to reduce substantially the premium rate under the entire occupational disease

Road Building.

Ohio has completed a biennium which places this state by far in the lead among all American states in intensive and extensive road building work during any similar period. The two years saw exactly 1,800 miles added to the state's improved highway system, increasing it nearly 50 per

It should be pointed out that there should never be any return to the latter sort of method, as it gives the public practically no return in service for the money spent.

Prohibition Enforcement.

In these days when the status of prohibition is passing, perhaps, through its most critical era since its inception, Ohio may well regard its work in this direction as an outstanding, constructive factor among the law enforcement activities in the United States.

It is not to be concluded from this that we in Ohio may rest on our oars and that the problem here is solved. Certain phases of the liquor menace have been dealt with. Substantial headway has been made. But it will require a great deal more than a couple of years' concentrated effort to check it definitely.

Finally, both as the outgoing governor and as a Republican, I desire specially to bespeak the aid and cooperation of the Republican members of the general assembly for my successor in office.

Long Distance

AN important feature of the unification A of telephone service in Xenia is the greatly extended long distance service now available.

Every telephone user in this exchange now has access to and direct connection with all the long distance lines of the Bell System and the former Springfield-Xenia System.

Subscribers who formerly had only the Springfield-Xenia service can now talk to all of the more than 13,000,000 telephones in the nation-wide Bell System and to points in Canada and Cuba.

Ohio Bell subscribers now have at their service all the toll lines which formerly could only be reached from a Springfield-Xenia telephone.

There are several classes of long distance service at your disposal and the schedule of rates is so classified that any telephone user may secure the maximum service at minimum cost. Inquire about speedy station-to-station service. Ask for booklet "Saving Money on Long Distance Telephone Calls."

MOOSE INITIATES LOCAL LODGE

Twelve more candidates were initiated into the mysteries of Xenia Lodge, No. 1629, Loyal Order of Moose at special exercises held at the club rooms here Sunday.

The class is the record taken in since the Moose started their membership drive at a special reduced entrance fee rate last fall, and increased the total to 48 new members, who have joined the Lodge. The membership drive at this rate will be continued for 30 more days also, it was anounced at the meeting Sunday.

An all-day social program featured the initiatory program of the Lodge Sunday, which concluded with a watch party at midnight and the celebration of the incoming New Year. The degree team of Xenia Lodge exemplified the degree work on the incoming class of candidates Sunday and there were visiting members present from Dayton, Wilmington and

Fans who are expecting some real basketball to develop in the court contest between the Famous Autos of this city and the Wallace Collegians at the new Central High gym Tuesday night, will also be pleased with the announcement of a preliminary to be staged between the Famous Five and the L. E. John Emeralds.

The preliminary will get under way at 7:15 o'clock and will be followed by the big game between George Haller's Famous Auto team, including many Dayton cage stars, and the Yellow Springs aggregation composed mostly of ex-collegians. When the Famous Autos make their debut here Tuesday night it is more than likely that Charley Pfeiffer and "Tuff" McManus will be found at the forwards, either "Bidd" Barlow or Harry Solimano at center and Julius Solowitz of this city, "Peck" Koehly or Koester at the guards. All of these lads have earned a name for themselves in Dayton court circles. Both games will be in charge of Referee Lawrence Rachford.

FEW centuries ago the word "idiot" meant a member of A the Roman citizenry. Citizens in general would resent the implication that the word conveys, today. There are still idiots, but the application of the word is entirely different from what it was of old.

There was also a time when some advertisements had to be taken with a grain of salt. A few misguided advertisers thought they could sell their goods better by misrepresenting them. Those advertisers have long since gone out of business or mended their ways. Hard experience taught that untruthful advertising didn't pay.

Other advertisers proved that the only way to advertise successfully, make regular customers, and build up good will was to tell the absolute truth about their goods.

Today you can depend on the merchant or manufacturer who advertises. The concern that tells you fankly what it is doing is a good concern with which todo business. Berlin, Jan. 2.—Chancellor Cuno's announcement of the rejection by France of his offer of an anti-war pact brought considerable comment from official circles, which, however, was Marterstock, North Sharon; confined to the question of Germany's motives in making the offer.

The world should now be convinced, officials say, that Germany harbors no ideas of revenge and that she is truly a democracy, being content to leave the decision of war or peace to a popu lar referendum, as provided in the proposed pact.

Whether the government considers Poincare's rejection of the plan as final and as disposing of further efforts in this direction could not be adduced from informal inquiries and officials apparently were awaiting the French reaction to Herr Cuno's announcement.

Although no further official information was forthcoming, the impression prevails that Herr Cuno's move was carefully planned in advance and that he even apprised the Washington government of his proposed pact.

Governor Sends Annual . Message to Assembly ... On Tuesday

SEES BIG BALANCE

Agriculture, Tenure of Office and Schools Mentioned Today.

Columbus, Jan. 2.-In his annual message to the Ohio legislature, presented today, Governor Davis says:

The most conspicuously outstanding point at this time in a review of the state's condition, and from which the people of Ohio have cause to draw a good deal of pride and satisfaction, is the financial aspect. The state is in by far the most prosperous condition at this beginning of a new year than it has ever been.

There is at this moment the enorm ous cash balance of approximately $19,500,000 accumulated in the state treasury, representing only the general fund and not including balances of special funds, which raise that amount many million dollars more. In the consideration of this tremendous surplus, several facts are to be remembered:

It is from this general fund that all state operating expenses are paid; direct taxation bears no part of the state operating cost and contributes in no way to this fund; the state in the last quarter of 1920 had a general fund deficit of $109,588.27; previously the condition of the general fund had violently fluctuated from low marks reaching almost entire extinction to an extreme maximum at one time of 88.403.056.

With this great balance in the treasury made available for the public uses, and originating entirely as pointed out from outside the direct taxes important recommendations and re- paid by the public, the opportunity to relieve substantially the pressed and burdened taxpaver from a portion of the load under which he has labored Among the governor's recommenda- for years, is no longer an empty hope. tions was the suggestion that the state It is an opportunity that has been gradually prepared, and aimed at, that proper safeguards are provided to in- is now here in actual, self-evident ex

Would Abolish Levy.

The state tax levy, properly speaking, now is 1.025 mills, a rate which L. C. Brodbeck to qualify. Brodbeck in 1921 produced a revenue of $11,-New York, Jan. 2.—An amazing has accepted appointment by Gov- 009,389.92. This direct state tax money has been devoted specifically to four distinct purposes, with no part of it, as pointed out, going into operating expenses. Approximately one-half of it has been required and the governor should call a special distributed for state university, normal school and state institutional building projects and for educational equalization, and the other half comprised the amount paid by the general taxpaver for state highway construc-

the state tax levy is used have abated. There is the greatest urgency that the educational opportunities afforded by the state to its youth through the higher schools of learning continue to be broadened. State universities which for years were seriously impeded in their work because of the lack of new buildings, until special provision was made for them early in this administration, must be ena cupied seats with their respective bled to improve and extend their plants so as to keep pace with the necessities of the situation. Similar ly, the crowded state of institutions and the condition of many of the present buildings-result of years of neglect-demand that there be no lapse in new construction work there. Though these levies expire June 30, 1923, their purposes should be further supported. Also, it would be highly detrimental to the state to attempt to interfere with the state's aid to weak school districts that is given through the educational equalization fund. And the uninterrupted, undiminished building of highways is neoessarily demanded by every sound

I am of the decided opinion that this affluent financial condition of the state, with its establishment of what virtually amounts to a gigantic reserve fund, will safely permit the entire abolition of the state tax levywhich as stated was less in annual total revenue yield than the general fund increase referred to-and thus afford the general taxpayer much needed extensive relief. Such abandonment of the state levy would have to have, however, as a condition precedent, definite provision for setting aside of the moneys required for the purposes now covered by that levy, from the accumulating surplus and perhaps in part from other sources.

We have now a two-year term for all elective state officials, with the exception of the state auditor, who serves for four years. The unfairness to the public of such an exceedingly brief term lies in the fact that hardly before the official has fairly launched

WARNING ISSUED

Columbus, Jan. 2 .- Encouraging parents and teachers in Ohio to co-operate with the state health department in combating measles, said to be prevalent and responsible for the death of large numbers of children, Dr. F. G. Boudreau, chief of the division of communicable diseases of the state department of health, sounded a warning against the disease to every health district in the state.

The average number of victims in Ohio every year is nearly 400, according to Dr. Boudreau, while the number of reported cases varies from 10 000 to 60,000.

A large number of the deaths from which are frequent and serious, it was ren Robinson. stated. Bronchial-pneumonia is the most common and fatal and accounts for nearly all the deaths from measles. Dr. Boudreau cautioned parents that it is unwise to let their children acquire the disease in order to have it over with. The surest way to keep the child from a fatal attack, Dr. Boudreau pointed out, is to postpone infection until the age of five or six is

Announcement

With the start of the New Year we wish to express our appreciation to all the people of XENIA for the fine spirit of cooperation they have shown toward our company.

Our company recognizes as an obligation the important part that power and light service plays in the industrial prosperity of the City.

To express our determination to help XENIA in further improving its industrial condition, and to bring to it even greater prosperity, we announce the following changes in rates for electric current to be effective January 20 1923.

POWER—The surcharge is reduced from 25 per cent to 15 per cent.

COMMERCIAL LIGHTING SCHEDULES have been revised by absorbing a portion of the surcharge in the rates.

BRITISH SUGGEST ROLE FOR U. S. IN RESCUING EUROPE

An important article, supposedly reflecting in a broad way the views held by the British Government, is contributed to the current week's issue of the London Spectator by its editor, John St. Loe Strachey. Under the caption, "An Appeal to America," the editor propounds a plan for world settlement under three headings as follows:

First. Get Great Britain's debt to America funded.

Second. Ask America to assist in ascertaining the amount of reparations Germany is able to pay, and induce France to accept that sum by undertaking to co-operate in the defense of France against German aggressions

Third. America and England then to inaugurate some system of international legal tender, permitting resumption of international exchange on a sound basis.

Upon the promise that the new year holds a dark outlook unless the mechanism of commerce is stabilized, and that the essential to this is fixing the reparations irrevocably, without which he says there can be no recovery for Germany or, indeed, for the whole world. Mr. Strachey submits that the reparations problem is insoluable without a preliminary agreement in regard to the inter-allied indebtedness.

He suggests that Chancellor of the Exchequer Baldwin, who is now on his way to the United States, tell the Washington Government plainly that he has come to pay and, like a bank official, ask the Americans "how they will take it." Thus it would be for the Americans and not the British to propose a plan for funding the debt in a manner suiting them best and causing the least possible inconvenience to the world's money markets.

Having by such funding placed herself in the position of a creditor nation, the editor continues, England should approach America with a request for joint action to settle the inter-allied indebtedness and for advice concerning the reparations problem. England should frankly recognize, however, he adds, that the American system of government precludes alliances and that America dreads diplomatic entanglements.

UNITED STATES HAS 64 PER CENT OF ALL THE TELEPHONES IN THE WORLD.

Statistics compiled by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and announced show

That the United States has 63.92 per cent of all the telephones in the world.

That the United States has 12.4 telephones per each 100 of

That from January 1, 1914, to January 1, 1921, there was an increase of 39.7 per cent in the number of telephones in the United States.

That on January 1, 1921, there were 13,329,379 telephones in the United States, of a grand total of 20,850,550 in the world.

According to the compilation, Germany has 8.6 per cent of the world's telephones; Great Britain, 4.73 per cent; Canada, 4.11 per cent; Frence, 2.27 per cent; Sweden, 1.86 per cent; Japan, 1.59 per cent; Denmark, 1.21 per cent.

I like to talk about my plans, of things I mean to do: I'll overhaul my twin sedans, which now refuse to choo; I plan to paint my picket fence, which is quite shabby now, and build, regardless of expense, a stable for the cow. I plan a hundred useful things, before the season goes, and so I walk around in rings and tell what I propose. My neighbors paint their fences pink, and haven't much to say, and when their cars are on the blink, they fix them in a day. At useful tasks they ply their tools, they put up wood to burn, they grease their pigs and wash their mules, manipulate the churn. And when I call to show blue prints of schemes I'll soon make whiz, they are not backward with their hints that I'm unfinished biz. I never seem to get in touch with bigs results, alas; I sometimes fear I talk too much to make things come to pass. It might be better if I toiled and put hot air in cans, for big achievement oft is spoiled by having many plans. My neighbors build their useful casks, with neat, well-fitting bungs, while I am talking of my tasks, for I've the gift of tongues.

WAY OF SALVATION SET FORTH MONDAY AT CHURCH MEETING

A vital message and inspiration singing marked the evangelistic service at the First M. E. Church, Monday evening. The first half hour was devoted to prayer and praise followed by the sermon of the evening, by the Rev. G. A. Scott, based on Mark 7:14, "Hearken unto me every one of you and understand.

'Christ speaks to use through the still, small voice, through the pulpit, the choir, the faith of a little child, the death of a friend, and other things; but some do not hear and many do not understand the voice and its appeal," was one of the statements of the Rev. Mr. Scott." If you do not hear there is something wrong with you. It may be prejudice, or you may be willfully refusing to hear or understand because you do not want to obey," the minister went on

The speaker set forth of the way of salvation, by using and explaining Christ's words, and showing that, "it is not enough to hear and understand, but surrender and obedience must come before there can be peace and

A New Friend to Farmers

The Ohio-Pennsylvania Joint Stock Land Bank, organized under the Federal Farm Loan Act, opens its doors January 2nd. Its sole business is to finance farm owners in these two states through first mortgages -promptly, at low cost and on fair understandable terms.

You deal directly with us or through your local banker. Your loan is made at 6%, without bonus or commission. Its term is 33 years. It never needs to be renewed because your small semi-annual payments wipe out the entire interest and principal in that period.

Our institution is directed by banking and agricultural leaders of Ohio and Pennsylvania. Their names are a guarantee of its integrity; they are men well known to be thoroughly in sympathy with the needs of the farmer. It is their plan to make this bank your friend in every way.

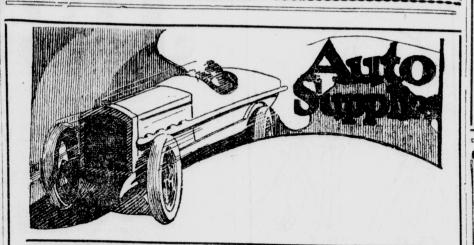

We have prepared an interesting booklet telling you how we can serve you. Write for it.

These considerations and a strong onviction that terms of state elective executive officers should be four years each, and to avoid all possible politcal complications, should be restricted to a single tenure, impel me to irge action by the general assembly whereby the question of amending he constitution to provide for such extention of terms of office may be submitted to the citizens for their consideration at the next election.

I have already alluded to the stupendous balance in the general revenue fund which we are able to transmit to our successor in office, and the direct opportunity it affords for an immediate large cut in taxes. If legislative appropriations can be exceeded by public officials with im punity, knowing that any deficit will be met by the state, our system of legislative check over administrative finances fails largely of its purpose. Yet, such check is one of the basic safety provisions of our governmental years in the administration and building up of the state fund has been such as to furnish cause for rejoicing to every sincere friend of workmen's compensation. From a balance in 1920 of $32,000,000, the fund has grown until today it reaches $41,000,000. Premiums paid by employers up to two years ago totaled $60,000,000. Now they amount to about $86,500,000. Un der our predecessor, the earned inter est on funds in hand was $1,115,981. 81; today the cash balance earns in

In the administration of the new occupational disease law enacted in 1921, it has been found that the premiums collected are much in excess of the risk which this phase of workmen's protection involves. Premiums collected to meet the hazard amount to $250,000. Yet only $9,000 has had to be paid in occupational disease compensation

The law as it now stands includes only some 14 compensable diseases, while the actual diseases to which certain occupations give rise number something like 25.

It is not only desirable therefore that every occupational disease be made compensable under the law, but in the light of the small ratio of the risk involved, as shown, it is at the same time to be deemed wise to reduce substantially the premium rate under the entire occupational disease

In these days when the status of prohibition is passing, perhaps, through its most critical era since its inception. Ohio may well regard its work in this direction as an outstanding, constructive factor among the law enforcement activities in the United States.

It is not to be concluded from this that we in Ohio may rest on our oars and that the problem here is solved. Certain phases of the liquor menace have been dealt with. Substantial headway has been made. But it will require a great deal more than a couple of years' concentrated effort to check it definitely.

Long Distance

AN important feature of the unification of telephone service in Xenia is the greatly extended long distance service now available.

Every telephone user in this exchange now has access to and direct connection with all the long distance lines of the Bell System and the former Springfield-Xenia System.

Subscribers who formerly had only the Springfield-Xenia service can now talk to all of the more than 13,000,000 telephones in the nation-wide Bell System and to points in Canada and Cuba.

Ohio Bell subscribers now have at their service all the toll lines which formerly could only be reached from a Springfield-Xenia telephone.

There are several classes of long distance service at your disposal and the schedule of rates is so classified that any telephone user may secure the maximum service at minimum cost. Inquire about speedy station-to-station service. Ask for booklet "Saving Money on Long Distance Telephone Calls."

MOOSE INITIATES TWELVE CANDIDATES

Twelve more candidates were initiated into the mysteries of Xenia Lodge, No. 1629, Loyal Order of Moose at special exercises held at the club rooms here Sunday.

The class is the record taken in since the Moose started their membership drive at a special reduced entrance fee rate last fall, and increased the total to 48 new members, who have joined the Lodge. The membership drive at this rate will be continued for 30 more days also, it was anounced at the meeting Sunday.

An all-day social program featured the initiatory program of the Lodge Sunday, which concluded with a watch party at midnight and the celebration of the incoming New Year. The degree team of Xenia Lodge exemplified the degree work on the incoming class of candidates Sunday and there were visiting members present from Dayton, Wilmington and

BASKETBALL TREAT

Fans who are expecting some real basketball to develop in the court contest between the Famous Autos of this city and the Wallace Collegians at the new Central High gym Tuesday night, will also be pleased with the announcement of a preliminary to be staged between the Famous Five and the L. E. John Emeralds.

The preliminary will get under way at 7:15 o'clock and will be followed by the big game between George Haller's Famous Auto team, including many Dayton cage stars, and the Yellow Springs aggregation composed mostly of ex-collegians. When the Famous Autos make their debut here Tuesday night it is more than forwards, either "Bidd" Barlow or Harry Solimano at center and Julius or Koester at the guards. All of these lads have earned a name for themselves in Dayton court circles. Both games will be in charge of Referee Lawrence Rachford.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and jet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home. your home. Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pines; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Spiendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthms.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest allments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Yes, Times Have Changed

A FEW centuries ago the word "idiot" meant a member of the Roman citizenry. Citizens in general would resent the implication that the word conveys, today. There are still idiots, but the application of the word is entirely different from what it was of old.

There was also a time when some advertisements had to be taken with a grain of salt. A few misguided advertisers thought they could sell their goods better by misrepresenting them. Those advertisers have long since gone out of business or mended their ways. Hard experience taught that untruthful advertising didn't pay.

Other advertisers proved that the only way to advertise successfully, make regular customers, and build up good will was to tell the absolute truth about their goods.

Today you can depend on the merchant or manufacturer who advertises. The concern that tells you fankly what it is doing is a good concern with which todo business. The store that advertises is a progressive store that has something worth while to say to you. And companies that advertise their products or their services believe in them. You can safely share their confidence.
